Budget increases 4.4%

Ratepayers in Anson, Hindon and Minden townships will be paying 4.4% more for municipal county and educational services in 1984. Details of the budget were announced at a special meeting of the municipal council Monday evening.

The municipality plans on spending $1,452,329 this year, compared with an actual expenditure of $1,340,813 in 1983. Of the amount required for municipal purposes this year, $486,305 will be raised through property taxation. The remaining portion of the budget will be acquired through provincial grants and payments made for services offered. The largest portion of this additional amount, $756,647 will come in the form of grants from the provincial government.

The budget will mean that residential mill rates will increase by 24 mills while the commercial property owners will face a 28 mill increase.

The chart below outlines the mill rates in the various areas and how the amounts are shared between the municipal, county and education requirements.

Society opts for Glebe Park for new museum

The Haliburton County Historical Society has selected a site in Glebe Park as its preference for the location of the Kanawa International Canoe Museum. The decision of the executive of the Society was announced Thursday evening at a meeting held at the Haliburton Highlands High School.

While the executive decision was accepted by an overwhelming majority of members in attendance, a formal objection to the executive committee's method of selecting the site was registered by Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Gary Kenney.

Just after chairman Frank Wallace announced the 4-2 decision of the executive, Kenney questioned the propriety of the society to formally endorse that location. He told the meeting of over 30 individuals that prior to the vote by the executive, Wallace had announced that Professor Wipper had indicated a preference for the proposal submitted by the municipality of Dysart et al. Wallace had told the site selection committee that Wipper, the man who had amassed the world class collection of watercraft at its present location near Ox Narrows, preferred a site on a lake and that he was favourable to the Glebe Park location because of the amount of land available.

Kenney said the introduction of Wipper's preference just prior to the vote was unfair to the other municipalities who had prepared submissions. His own municipality had suggested the museum be located at the junction of Highways 35 and 121 on an eight acre piece of property between the Fireside Restaurant and the Esso service station.

He asked, in a written statement, "Why did your (the Society's) letter of May 2, inviting proposals, not state that a site should be on a lake, and of certain minimum size, in addition to the other details of accessibility, economic benefit, etc."

Kenney said that by introducing these criteria "at the last minute" the committee had short circuited the selection criteria as laid out by the Society. He said, that his municipality for example, would have been able to meet the criteria stated by Wipper for a site if these preferences had been made known.

The councillor told the gathering that prior to the meeting that evening he had talked with Professor Wipper by telephone and that the Toronto University professor had said he did not wish to endorse any site in the Highlands. Kenney said he had been told by the museum's founder that his own board of directors would be drafting criteria for the location of the museum and that these

Association proposes policy for school bus safety

The issue of school bus safety was the subject of a brief presented to the Transportation Committee of the Haliburton County Board of Education on Tuesday, June 5.

The brief was prepared by the Archie Stouffer Home and School Association and resulted from a school bus accident that occurred in September 1983. Twelve Archie Stouffer students were injured when a tandem dump truck side-swiped one school bus and struck a second bus while the students were transferring from one bus to another near Lochlin.

In a press release made available prior to the meeting between the Association and the Transportation Committee, the Association noted that the issue of school bus safety was one of special concern to the group because 93% or 404 students from Archie Stouffer School are transported to school on buses.

The Association recommended that the Board should adopt a policy to deal exclusively with the issue of school bus safety and listed a number of recommendations for the Board's consideration.

In the first recommendation the Association noted that, in their opinion, the school bus operator is the single most important element in school bus safety. The Association recommended that drivers should be certified annually and that the certification should require:

- a valid Class 'B' Ontario driver's licence
- attendance at an approved course in defensive driving in the past 12 months
- a valid St. John's Ambulance certificate in first aid training

- instruction by the Board of Education in maintaining student discipline
- demonstrated knowledge of relevant legislation and of the Board's policy on school bus safety

Safety measures

The brief also recommends that all drivers should be issued a list of safety measures for which he or she alone is responsible. The Association noted that some of the measures may already be in use. Included

Minden, Nebraska, U.S.A.

Many people across the country call it "the miracle of the prairies"; the official name is Bethphage Mission, Inc.; but to the people in the Minden area, it is, simply known as "the mission."

Bethphage Mission has been located in Axtell, Nebraska, just west of Minden, since its founding in 1913 by Rev. K.G. William Dahl, a young Lutheran pastor. His intention was to provide a place where people with mental retardation and other handicaps could receive loving care and training in a unique setting and very soon people were coming to this Christian home from all parts of the United States.

For many years the nucleus of Bethphage's staff was its diaconate, comprised of women and men who were deaconesses and deacons and were called Sister and Brother. Rev. Dahl founded Bethphage as an institution for the poor and he accepted people whom he described as "unfortunate", including the mentally retarded, mentally ill and the aged, as well as those who had a diagnosis of epilepsy. There was only minimal support from the families of some of the guests so most of the funding came from charitable gifts.

In 1966 Bethphage Mission became the property of five synods of the Lutheran Church in America who assumed leadership through a board of directors elected by each synod. However, the synods did not assume financial support through their corporate budgets.

Bethphage Mission now serves more than 180 people on its Axtell campus on 40 acres of land. The campus has nine residences in addition to several other buildings serving utilitarian purposes.

The centre of the campus is a beautiful church called Zion Chapel which is designed with step gables which are also prominent in other campus buildings. The church was a gift from the Women's Missionary Society of the Augustana Synod of the Lutheran Church in 1930.

Although the founder Rev. Dahl died in 1917 at the age of 34 years, he was able to direct the procurement of land and the erection of three buildings.

Through the ensuing years, Bethphage's care and training emphasis have been modified in keeping with current needs as determined by advancements in science and refinements in thinking regarding the integration of handicapped people.

Growth has been dynamic since those early days. Today professionally trained workers provide the best developmental and therapeutic programs. The happiness and individual needs of each resident are of central importance as plans, decisions and changes take place. High standards that call for home-like residences, new training centres and skill-oriented training have been put into action so that everyone entrusted to Bethphage's care can experience meaningful lives.

Programs have been designed to accommodate the needs of severely handicapped people. Bethphage is adapting its older structures for new areas of service.

Every person has learning potential; at Bethphage mission every person has learning opportunities. Perhaps the best explanation of the past, present and future of Bethphage Mission is in a phrase taken from one of their own publications, "God whispered into the ear of a man and a dream of love became reality on the prairies of Nebraska."

School bus safety proposals

in the list of safety measures are the recommendations that:

- the decision to cancel a morning run, for reasons of unsafe weather or road conditions, shall rest with the individual route drivers
- the driver shall be responsible for ensuring that the bus is in good working order
- school buses shall be operated with headlights and running lights on
- the transfer of students from one bus to another shall be made only at locations reviewed and approved by the Board's Transportation Committee, after consultation with the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police
- drivers shall pull over to allow other vehicles to pass only where there is sufficient road shoulder to leave the travelled portion of the road or where there is a broken centre line, or where there is sufficient unobstructed vision for the passing motorist to do so safely
- the driver shall not operate the bus except while all passengers are seated
- the driver shall be responsible for the enforcement of the safety rules of conduct and crossing procedures

The Association recommended further that students should be instructed in the rules of conduct and crossing procedures and that parents, drivers and operators should be notified of the rules.

The safety of school buses was dealt with in a recommendation that all vehicles should be frequently inspected by a licenced, authorized mechanic who is not in the employ of the transportation company that owns the vehicle. In the event of a mechanical breakdown or accident a recommendation was made that the Board should establish a set of procedures to be followed by the driver and that these procedures and emergency services phone numbers should be posted in the buses.

Noting that in their opinion dangerous circumstances can be caused by overcrowding, the Association recommended that the number of children should be limited to three small children (grades kindergarten to 5) or two larger children per seat in a standard school bus.

In considering long excursion trips, the recommendation was made that adequate ratios of supervising adults to students be established and adhered to, to provide proper supervision of students. A recommendation was also made that all buses that are used on long trips should meet Transport Canada 1982 construction safety standards.

Seat belts

The issue of the installation of seat belts in school buses was dealt with in the final section of the brief. The association noted that the Board had announced its intention to install seat belts in van-type buses. The brief also noted that two recent coroner's juries had called for the installation, including retro-fitting, of seat belts in Ontario school buses.

The brief states, "We regard the issue of retro-fitting seat belts in buses as one worthy of further study. It is the intention of the Association to investigate this matter further and report to the Board, and we hope that the Board too will take a second look at this important question."

Kickers lose to Huntsville 5-3

The Dixie Lee soccer team lost 5-3 to Huntsville last Sunday in Haliburton. Huntsville opened up a 3-0 lead in the first half before Ivor Thompson scored for Dixie Lee. This was a set play from an indirect kick taken in the Huntsville penalty box. There was a great deal of confusion but Paul Milne found Thompson unmarked on the left of Huntsville's defensive wall. Thompson sent the pass solidly into the net.

Huntsville scored again early in the second half but Haliburton came back with two. A penalty kick was awarded when Paul Milne was pushed by the Huntsville goalie. Milne scored because the goalie dived the wrong way. Shaun Chapman headed Haliburton's next goal in off the crossbar from a corner kick by Scooter Burgess. Although Huntsville scored the last goal the home side put up a good fight.

Paul Vuksic played his first game in goal and thwarted a number of breakaways and dangerous corner kicks. The team will feel more comfortable with two good goalies considering Vuksic and Andrew Shapiera.

Dixie Lee will practise in Haliburton on Thursday night before playing in Parry Sound on June 10.

Exhibition strikes whimsical note

The current exhibition at the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery has been variously described as "whimsical", "charming" and "delightful". The show which opened on Thursday, May 31, features the work of two self taught artists.

Gordon Law is a poet and wood carver who is carrying on two family traditions. His grandmother was a poet and both his father and his brother were wood carvers.

Gordon didn't pursue his interest in poetry until his retirement from General Motors in 1980. He became interested in Greek mythology and after extensive research he began writing poems about the ancient Greek heroes. After carving a wooden figure to illustrate a poem, he was asked to put on an exhibition of his work. More poems and carvings followed and within a year he held his first showing.

He then turned his attention to more contemporary history and began carving carriages and buggys that were popular forms of transportation at the turn of the century.

Gordon constructs the carriages out of mahogany plywood working from sketches in books or from memory. The passengers and horses are carved out of pine, basswood or white cedar. He has also carved Noah's Ark, a carousel and a dog sled team.

Children are particularly fascinated by the miniatures as Gordon has discovered during visits to schools near his home in Oshawa.

The wood carving exhibit takes up one room at the gallery. Carvings of Pandora, Ulysses, Aphrodite and many other figures are grouped around the outside of the room. In the centre Liliputian drivers and their teams prepare to drive away from a railway station while a tiny Eskimo passes by behind his team of sled dogs.

The second room at the gallery features the work of another artist who is a relative newcomer to the art scene.

Linda Lapeer began painting in 1977 as a form of self expression and therapy. She was recovering from a rare disease which had paralysed her for over a year and was encouraged to paint by her husband.

Since then Linda has participated in more than a dozen exhibits and has also conducted art classes. She has become more skilled in her artistry but she has not lost the sense of innocence that is apparent in her paintings.

Linda's neighbours, the village of Gore's Landing and the surrounding countryside are the subject of her paintings.

The wide scope of the scenes that are depicted on the small canvasses invite close scrutiny and provide frequent surprises.

Her acrylics on canvas are not realistic portrayals of the landscapes and her friends daily lives. They are finely detailed visions that capture the many moods of the idyllic scenes. The bold colours often create an eerie, enchanting atmosphere.

Like the carvings of Gordon Law, Linda Lapeer's paintings fascinate people of all ages.

The exhibition which continues until June 23 is truly a family show.

A sensible policy

The Archie Stouffer Elementary School Home and School Association have produced a sensible and useful list of criteria for school bus safety. The organization's proposals were presented to the Haliburton County Board of Education's transportation committee Tuesday evening.

While we are sure that the board has always been keenly aware of the need for the safety of the students travelling on buses, the list of provisions prepared by the association provides a written code. If adopted by the board, it will ensure that the regulations are clearly stated and there is no area for misunderstanding.

Of particular import, we believe, is the co-ordinated effort suggested by the group's approach. When all participants in the program, students, parents, drivers, teachers and school officials are aware of the rules of conduct and procedures, the results can only be a more orderly, and therefore, safer transportation of students.

We hope the board of education accepts the recommendations and makes them an integral part of its transportation policy.

Remembering D-Day

-by John Eakins, MPP -

This week marks the 40th anniversary of one of the most important events of modern history. On D-Day, the 6th of June 1944, Canadian, British, American and Allied forces were engaged in Operation Overlord: the invasion of north-western Europe and the opening of the second front.

The Normandy campaign of 1944 ranks among the decisive battles of the twentieth century and perhaps of western civilization. Hitler's Nazi empire might have been defeated by Stalin's evil machine, but without an Allied victory in Normandy, the second world war would have destroyed liberal and social democracy in Europe. The terrible gamble of landing on an open and defended shore had to be risked. Allied soldiers had to fight and die in the fields of Normandy so that freedom would prevail.

In that savage three-month campaign, almost 100,000 Canadians took part. Canadian sailors delivered Canadian soldiers to Juno beach, Canadian airmen bested Hitler's Luftwaffe and became the nemesis of his armoured divisions. Canadians from every part of Canada fought their way ashore, battled the finest soldiers in Europe and won their bloodstained way to the Gap below Falaise.

The events of this period are vividly and interestingly detailed from a Canadian viewpoint in a newly published book, "Bloody Victory", by Professor Granatstein of York University, and Professor Desmond Morton of the University of Toronto.

The history of the Normandy campaign has often been written, but even the best of books tend to ignore the Canadians, lumping them with the British, occasionally blaming them for their apparent "slowness". Regimental histories and personal memoirs understandably focus narrowly and often discreetly on the experiences of a few of the thousands of Canadians involved.

Canadians must be reminded of their forgotten army in the great Normandy campaign. In that hot summer of forty years ago, many Canadians went out to fight and die. Over 5,000 of them never returned; 18,000 more suffered wounds of body or mind that transformed or shortened their lives. Because of what they did, the rest of us have known peace and freedom.

Remembering is the least of the obligations we owe them.

Along with the President of France, Her Majesty the Queen, Prime Minister Trudeau, and President Reagan, ceremonies marking D-Day will take place this week in Normandy.

I am also pleased that the Honourable Tom Wells representing the people of Ontario will unveil a bronze plaque in the City of Caen on June 7, the inscription of which will read:

"In honour of the men and women of the Province of Ontario who served in the Royal Canadian Navy, the Canadian Army, and the Royal Canadian Air Force in the Battle of Normandy, 1944. Erected by the Government and people of the Province of Ontario, Canada, June 7, 1984."

Editor:

Today in the Middle East, Ireland, South America and Afghanistan, wars and revolutions are taking thousands of lives of ordinary people. The wars, and the people who started them, such as Khomeini, Ghadaffi, The I.R.A. and Rev. Paisley, and in our domain Mr. Reagan and his right wing advisers, have one thing in common. All the instigators are bigots.

Bigotry, whose mother is Ignorance and whose father is Fear, is the all-pervasive evil force that makes nuclear war a constant possibility. It is present at all levels of society. In our schools it infects our children; in our judiciary, it makes a mockery of the rule of law and in our parliaments it produced legislation that put thousands of Canadian citizens in concentration camps in the forties. This last terrible act of bigotry permitted a greedy and racially bigotted majority to steal and plunder the homes and possessions of innocent people without cause merely because, they resembled people of another country who were committing atrocities.

Bigotry is immune to reason or persuasion. It feeds on fear and naivete. When it infects the body politic there seems to be no antidote except the slow reaction of the public mind to the facts as they appear later.

Racial bigotry in the early stages of the war, kept thousands of Jewish refugees from leaving Europe for Canada. They eventually ended up in the gas chambers of Hitler's Germany. Today it still infects our society as a low level destructive fever.

In relation to the article on bilingualism in last week's newspaper, there are no Frenchmen in the Canadian Parliament nor in any other provincial Parliament. There are in fact, a number of fourth and fifth generation Canadians who speak either one or both of our official languages. I would also point out that their right to do so was guaranteed them in 1867 when Canada was founded in a solemn agreement that is sacred to most true Canadians.

I must point out that the terms of that founding agreement was honoured in full by the francophone community and almost totally disregarded by our own anglophone ancestors. The recent shameful outbreak of naked racial bigotry in Manitoba only reinforces the writer's belief, that bigotry, not the bomb will be our final nemesis.

The only antidote to this virulent social disease is a wider and more varied educational experience and an informed and alert electorate. Your paper, Mr. Editor, can do a great deal to counteract the spread of this soul destroying virus in our County.

Editor:

Having been involved with the planning of the WALK FOR WELLS, the biblical quotation, "You are the salt of the earth" has a special significance for me.

We have in our County many persons who gave unstintingly of their time, talent and energy to bring about the WALK, which proved to be a success. On Saturday, when experiencing the enthusiasm of the many volunteers at the check-points, the arousing cheerfulness of the band and pipers, the flawless communicative skills of the Minden Radio Club operators, those who provided refreshments along the route, and especially the walkers (supported by their many sponsors) who walked to the limit of their endurance, I knew that I was in the company of the committed.

Salt is a preservative. Without persons with sensitivity and concern for the desperately needy throughout our world community, society as we know it would surely decay.

It would no longer have the salt to preserve its humanitarian values.

Mr. Editor we do appreciate your cooperation in this endeavour. We are greatly encouraged by reports of pledges which are still coming in and expect to have a final report on the total donations to the WALK FOR WELLS soon.

Wearing many hats

There are complications that come with being the editor and publisher of a small town weekly newspaper.

To be an effective and honest reporter of events and activities shaping the community I serve, often means having to stand back and view what is taking place with a critical eye. However, at the same time, communities of our size encourage participation, which may mean from time to time that I am both a journalist and participant in a particular event. This duality can often result in questions being raised in my own mind. Am I being totally fair to the organization or activity in which I am involved while at the same time providing the readers of this newspaper with as fair and unbiased report as possible. It's a situation which will not likely ever resolve itself easily and one that the editors and publishers of community newspapers will face on a continuing basis.

Such a situation arose last Thursday at the meeting of the Haliburton County Historical Society. There was no doubt in my own mind that I was there as a reporter to, as impartially as possible, present the details of the evening.

But there is no doubt in my own mind either that I arrived at the meeting with an outlook that had been influenced by my involvement and concern for the future of the Kanawa Canoe Museum. Over two years ago the late Jack MacGregor, Stuart Brandon and I saw a need to form a committee to promote the Kanawa Canoe Museum and its presence in the county. At that time there were rumours that the excellent collection of watercraft from around the world could be moved to another location. Peterborough was the main contender for the museum, but other, larger centres had also expressed an interest in the collection. The committee prepared a brief, solicited support and lobbied with federal and provincial authorities to not allow the museum to be moved from Haliburton County.

The Chamber of Commerce and County Council under Warden Bill Howe recognized the potential threat and added their assistance and efforts to the cause.

The efforts appeared to pay off at the time as pressure for the relocation of the museum seemed to melt. The committee, council and Chamber efforts shifted into low gear as the immediate concern that the museum could be lost to the county dwindled.

The formation of the Haliburton County Historical Society rekindled interest in the museum and the placement of the facility to the county's and museum's maximum benefit. When invitations were extended to county municipalities and groups to submit proposals for locations for the museum, I of course took an active interest and, since Minden is where I reside, I provided some assistance, along with other individuals in the preparation of the Anson, Hindon and Minden proposal to locate the museum at the intersection of Highways 35 and 121.

Through the review process, I was elated with the proposal being prepared by the municipality and what it would mean for the museum. Occasionally, I would find myself cautiously assessing my feelings - did I favour the Minden proposal because of parochial interests or was it in fact the best possible location in Haliburton County, for the museum. After a number of assessments, I felt the location suggested by Anson, Hindon and Minden council represented the best place for the museum.

Which brings us to last Thursday night and the Historical Society meeting. I was there as this newspaper's reporter, a voting member of the Society, as someone with a keen interest in the outcome of the decision of the executive as to where the museum would be located and someone who was familiar with the museum and, most importantly, concerned with its future.

That is why, when the endorsement of the collective membership was sought for the Glebe Park location, mine was one of four hands to be raised in opposition. The executive of the Historical Society has made a decision that will do little to enhance the future of the museum, and that is unfortunate.

Time will only tell if the museum can be successfully relocated at the favoured site. There are many miles between the decision last Thursday and when the first canoe will be installed in a new location. While I respect the decision of the society, and have pledged my continued interest in the future of the museum, I still reserve my right to disagree and in doing so test my ability to separate the many roles I play as a member of this community.

Broadway in the Highlands

Music that spanned three generations was featured during a sold-out performance at the Wig-A-Mog Inn on Sunday afternoon.

The event was a musical salute to Broadway performed by singer Nancy Robichaud and pianist Melissa Stephens.

During the hour-long show the duo offered tunes by Cole Porter, Rogers and Hammerstein, George Gershwin and other well-known writers and composers.

Whether the song was taken from a musical of the 1920's or from a present day Broadway hit, the theme was love in all its variations.

Backed by Melissa's expressive piano interpretations, Nancy was in fine voice, singing a variety of tunes from raunchy rhumbas to bittersweet ballads.

The show also featured solo performances by Janelle Robinson and Eric O'Brien who are students in Miss Robichaud's English class.

Judging from the response of the enthusiastic audience the show was a hit and a most pleasant way to spend a Sunday afternoon.

Coaches proud of effort

While the athletes from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School did not capture top honours at the all-Ontario track and field meet last week in Toronto, high school coach Bob Colliver is still pleased with their efforts.

Mr. Colliver and coach Paul Morrisette saw six of their students qualify for the final level of provincial competition. The events were held Friday and Saturday.

The midget girls relay team placed fifth in the competition. They were facing 24 teams from various regions of the province. Members of the HHSS team included Lori-Anne Duguay, Lisa Sisson, Lindsay Tashlin and Lesley Tashlin.

Lesley Tashlin also placed sixth in the Midget girls 80 metre hurdles.

The coaches noted that this was the largest number of participants the school had ever sent to the provincial finals. They also commented that many of the team members were young students and would form an important nucleus for competitions in future years.

Rural task force will meet in Lindsay

An Ontario Liberal Task Force studying problems confronting rural municipalities has scheduled hearings in Lindsay, Wednesday, June 13, Chairman John Eakins (Liberal - Victoria - Haliburton) has announced. The Task Force was formed by Opposition Leader David Peterson to investigate ways Ontario's rural municipalities can address current socio-economic difficulties.

"The rural municipality faces unique problems," said Mr. Eakins, one-time Mayor of Lindsay, "Changing demographics, mounting unemployment, a fragile agricultural and industrial base; each contribute to the pressures. It is our hope we can uncover ways in which the Ontario Government can help our rural communities survive the current recession and flourish in any anticipated recovery."

"The Task Force will consult with a number of municipal organizations, including the Association of Municipalities of Ontario, the Rural Section of AMO, and Ontario Small Urban Municipalities. It will hold a series of public meetings across the province.

The Lindsay meeting will be held in the Town Hall in Lindsay, 180 Kent Street West, beginning at 9:00 a.m., June 13. Task Force members will include Mr. Eakins; Environment Critic Murray Elston (Liberal - Huron - Bruce); Agriculture Critic Jack Riddell (Liberal - Huron - Middlesex); Housing and Municipal Affairs Critic Herb Epp (Liberal - Waterloo North); Gordon Miller (Liberal - Haldimand - Norfolk); Robert McKessock (Liberal - Grey).

The Opposition Leader announced the Task Force at a meeting of ROMA. Mr. Peterson said it would seek solutions to the problems of sustaining the towns and townships as viable economic units by shoring up their revenue base and maintaining work forces.

He has questioned the wisdom of government spending $60 million to create a townsites such as Townsend, "while the infrastructures of neighbouring communities like Jarvis, Delhi and Simcoe struggle to overcome a lack of resources."

Mr. Eakins, Mayor of Lindsay for six years prior to his election to the Ontario Legislature in 1975 and a former President of the town and village section of the municipal association, said the Task Force will search for ways to redevelop and renew the province's smaller centres.

Questions to be addressed include:

- How can we keep skilled labour in the small towns? How can we make apprenticeship and manpower training programs more suitable to the smaller industrial facility?

- How can we improve the revenue picture for small municipalities? How can we reverse the erosion of municipal government autonomy?

- We need improved transportation between rural communities. How can we develop more effective and viable links between small centres?

- We need a workable policy on the locating of industrial facilities. How can smaller municipalities be assisted to more effectively compete for jobs and investment?

- Rural municipalities need a stronger voice in government. How can we strengthen their political clout?

Kenney objects to method

would be available by June 16. Kenney suggested that by endorsing a site location now, the Society might find that its choice does not match the specifics set down by the museum's board. This he said would weaken the county's bid to retain the museum as other interested communities in the province could be submitting proposals which more closely match the museum board's criteria.

"In good faith, what was the need of a county selection committee and a well thought out set of criteria based on economic factors, traffic flows, etc., if you are not going to make a selection of the best county site offered and then present it to Professor Wipper for his approval?" Kenney asked.

Chairman of the society, Frank Wallace responded to the remarks by Councillor Kenney by agreeing he had offered the executive Wipper's preferences prior to the vote. He pointed out that in the set of criteria laid out in the letter of May 2, which appeared in the May 2 edition of The Times, it was stated that the site had to be favourable to Wipper. Wallace described how he had met with Professor Wipper on a number of occasions to explain what the society was attempting to do. "On May 22 Professor Wipper said, 'I like the Haliburton proposal.' I urged him to look at all the proposals for a week and I left them with him," Wallace told the meeting.

Wallace had a subsequent meeting with the museum's founder at which time, the society chairman reported that Wipper stated, "I prefer Haliburton. It's got a lake, not a river...there is lots of space there." Wallace went on to explain "Wipper said he could be quoted on his preference." Wallace also told the meeting that the professor stated at that time he did not want to become involved in the selection process.

Kenney responded by suggesting the committee did not have Professor Wipper's preference in writing and that no action should be taken until a letter stating his preference is received. He pointed out that there is no way anyone on the society selection committee would act contrary to Wipper's preference.

The challenge from Kenney to the choice of the executive did not sit well with most of the audience. One member suggested that if the society did not act decisively it could be placing in jeopardy the museum's presence in the county. Questions were also raised as to how Kenney had obtained information on the proceedings of the society's deliberations, which were to have been taken behind closed doors.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey commented, "We have not lowered ourselves by interfering with the society's selection committee." He suggested that the objection raised by Kenney hearkened back to "old loggerhead days" when a fierce rivalry existed between the communities of Minden and Haliburton. Fearrey pointed out that the selection committee included four representatives from the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, two from Dysart and two from Stanhope. "These are all honourable men," he said. "I feel the society has presented a desirable site. If we turn down their selection, we'll lose the museum."

The reeve referred to Kenney as "Dr. know-it-all, who seems to have a cure for everything." He described him as "a known debater".

Fearrey then made a motion that the choice of the executive be endorsed by the membership of the organization.

Before the vote was taken, another member of the audience challenged Kenney's objection. Len Pizzezy asked if the councillor would be raising the same concerns if the society's executive had chosen the site proposed by his municipality. "Can you honestly say that you would be expressing the same concerns over the way the executive had voted if your site had been the one they chose?" Pizzezy asked Kenney. The council answered, "That hasn't happened, I can't answer that."

With the motion on the floor, 28 voted in favour of endorsing the decision of the executive committee while four voted in opposition. Chairman Wallace declared the motion carried.

Constitution

In other business conducted at the Thursday night meeting, the society endorsed a constitution. The chairman explained that if the society approved the constitution at the Thursday meeting, it would be assured of obtaining the status of a non-profit organization. Pertinent sections of the constitution were read and the document was endorsed by the membership.

Wallace also sought new ideas from the membership for other areas which the society could pursue. Included among the suggestions offered were the erection of provincial historical plaques, the creation of walking tours in some of the older sections of the county, the inclusion of more young people in the society's operation, among others.

The next general meeting of the society will be held October 4.

Gas tax a rip-off declares Eakins

The ad valorem gasoline tax rip-off continues and this week marks the third anniversary of the Davis Tax, and when you fill up your tank, just remember that 20 per cent of the price of every litre you pay goes to the Province of Ontario as tax, Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins said in a press release issued this week.

"While the Treasurer states that his new budget contains no tax increases for consumers, he fails to mention that Ontario's lingering ad valorem tax grab continues to rise while ripping off consumers and adding to energy costs. This unwarranted tax grab is expected to give the government a windfall profit of $976 million next year, up by some $44 million from last year.

"In the May 1981 Budget, the government introduced the new ad valorem method of taxation for gasoline, tobacco and alcohol. By this action the Ontario Government gave up on the fight against inflation. Instead, it is profiteering from it and with the escalating tax-take adjusted four times a year, has joined the forces driving up inflation. In short, the Davis Government now has a vested interest in oil price increases. The latest ad valorem tax imposed last April resulted in 7.6 cents for every litre of regular gasoline going to provincial coffers," Eakins said.

"Never again will the government need to go to the people for an increase in the provincial take on a litre of gasoline. Instead, it has imposed 'built-in' increases which will take effect automatically with every rise in price.

"If the government was honest, perhaps, just as gasoline prices are being adjusted upward on week-ends as motorists head to the cottage, a little sign should be hung on every gas pump in the province saying, 20 per cent of the price of this litre of gasoline is being paid by you to the Province of Ontario," the MPP stated.

Nurse-administrator Jean Anderson, left, and nurse Sarla Knowles were on hand recently to accept a child's playpen from Yvonne Nye, registrar of the Minden Kinette Club. The playpen will be used in the hospital's pediatric ward.

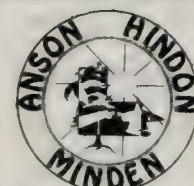

Trent-Severn Waterway news

The stored water reached 98.3% of maximum in the Haliburton and Peterborough Counties tributary lakes, on Thursday, May 31. This was in excess of the 10-year average by about 4% for the date, with the lakes generally all within 5-8% of their target levels.

Kawartha Lakes levels which had been higher than summer with a good surplus, rose further with rain over Monday night. From then to the end of the week larger flows have been run and the surplus reduced.

As we go toward summer, with wet weather repeatedly threatening, the surplus becomes a liability rather than an asset.

Lake Simcoe - Couchiching responded to the rain as well on Tuesday, so the outflow has been increased there to reduce the level. Higher flows than present would interfere with navigation while the Black River flow is still running about 30 m³/s. When it declines further lake flow increases will be made until the level is sufficiently lowered.

Goat society

by Ernest Hills

In their final general meeting before the hectic summer schedule with the fairs and bicentennial celebrations, the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society held a workshop on Saturday, June 2. The concept of the workshop is to bring together people who have an area of expertise in the field of animal health or maintenance, and they demonstrate their technique to the membership in general.

Approximately 20 people attended, in an effort to keep the blackflies well fed, and witnessed such undertakings as hoof trimming, clipping and tattooing. The informal atmosphere permitted for discussion and questions to co-incide with the actual demonstrations. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who conducted the demonstrations, and to express our appreciation to Russ and June Warren for their continued support of our organization. Both are executive members of the Huronia Goat Club.

One of the most attentive sessions conducted was run by Dr. Peter Bennett, who demonstrated some castration techniques on young bucks. Of particular note was the use of the new chemical castrator, which is injected into the animals' testes. Aside from the discomfort of the needle this process eliminates the pain and discomfort of either the pinchers or surgery.

This technique was demonstrated on two of Sharron Greer's young buck kids, and Sharron has undertaken to report back to the membership as to its effectiveness, as well as the stress factor and recovery time on the young kids.

Dr. Bennett demonstrated the other means of castration and fielded questions from the membership. We sincerely appreciate Dr. Bennett's attending at the workshop and his input on a number of veterinary-related topics besides castration. Dr. Bennett shares an excellent rapport with many members of the goat society.

A final word of thanks to Ken Alger, who organized the workshop for the club, and to the Kinmount Fair Board for permitting us to use the fair grounds to hold the event.

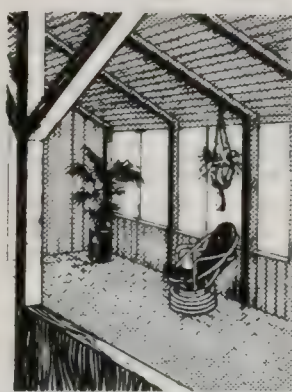

Please look for our displays and promotional activities at the various events and celebrations this summer, and know that you are always welcome to come up and ask questions or talk goats with us. Hope to see you!

Notes

To the membership of the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society: redemption is at hand! We are looking for volunteers for the many events coming up during the summer. Even if you can only volunteer your time for one day, or a few hours of one day.

Wednesday, June 20 at 8 p.m. in the Haliburton County fair grounds in Minden, we are asking you to meet with us to establish a schedule and the various committees, with specific undertakings. Let's see as many of you as possible, please.

Pasture profits

An article entitled "Putting More Thought Into Pasture Profits", written by Dave Little, appeared in last week's "Eastern Ontario Farmer". There were a number of excellent points in this article, and I would recommend any farmers with pasture to read the entire article.

The following are some excerpts from Dave's article: "Ann Clark of the University of Guelph has a fresh approach to getting more profit out of pastures called 'thought-intensive' management, as opposed to more traditional 'resource-intensive' approach. Pasturing cattle is resource intensive with the cost of land, taxes, fencing and the cattle adding up to a fair investment. We have to invest some resources into a pasture program, with things like recommended varieties, fertilizer, implants and fly control ear tags paying for themselves several times over.

Ann Clark's 'thought-intensive' approach is a closer look at ways to make more profit from these necessary investments. Consider the basic differences in growing forages for hay, and for pasture. Hay involves growing plants with a fair amount of stem. Pasture must be managed for continuous young leafy growth. To keep pasture growth that way, Ann Clark has high stocking rates, small fields, rotational grazing and periods of grass re-growth. She suggests keeping cattle on "idling ground" when they're not grazing.

When pasture plants get stemmy, cattle digestibility drops below 50% - i.e. half the feed value goes right through the animal. With today's pasture costs, we can't afford this loss.

Another consideration is the effect of rate of gain on an animal, looking at how much feed is required for maintaining the animal versus how much goes into profit-making weight gain. Coarse, ignored pastures on hot sunny days don't put much gain on cattle.

'Thought-intensive' management means more fencing, more work, closer attention to grass growth, some clipping and harrowing, probably some baling of excess growth in certain fields, etc. But all of this represents very little added investment compared to the investment already made in the pasture land and the cattle.

4-H Queen's Guineas Entries

Nine 4-H members from Victoria County have entered their 4-H steer projects in the Queen's Guineas Competition held at the Royal Winter Fair in November.

Kevin Lynch of Lindsay, Blaine and Darryl Kennedy of Omemee, Kelly Shier, of Bobcaygeon, Laurie Jones of Cameron, Irwin Potter of Baddow, Leah Harper and Paul Robertson of Woodville, and Bill Connell of Oakwood had their steer weighed on test in early May.

Each steer must gain an average of 2.3 lbs. while on test for 153 days.

Steer classes at the Royal have been changed for 1984. Breed classes will no longer be used. Steers will be put into classes according to weight. All steers will be weighed on arrival at the Royal.

Each steer exhibited in the Queen's Guineas Competition must meet standards for finish and conformation.

June 4 is a special day in the life of The Times. That date marks our anniversary. It is hard to believe that it was just five years ago that ownership of The Times changed.

Over the intervening years the support of our readers and advertisers has grown and brought both satisfaction and encouragement to the staff.

This community newspaper may be owned by a single individual, but all the staff members, past and present, share in its success. More importantly we feel the community has a direct and ongoing interest in this newspaper. For that we are most grateful. We hope that relationship will continue to flourish in the years to come.

Mrs. Joan Poyntz of Georgetown admires the quilt she won at the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery draw held earlier this spring. The quilt, which was made by Jean Hewitt of Minden, was raffled to help raise money for the Gallery. Mrs. Poyntz purchased her ticket at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto where tickets were being sold at the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce booth. The lucky winner is a cottager on Kawagama Lake near Dorset.

Volunteers provide phone service

by Marie Wallace

The other day I noticed an article in the Toronto Star entitled 'New Service'. This new service is a business similar to our 'Fone-a-Friend' program with one difference - a charge of $1.00 per day.

The service is designed for senior and handicapped people who live alone - they receive a telephone call to make sure they are managing through the day. If there is no answer and the service wasn't informed that the resident will be away, it will call the emergency numbers the resident has provided and ask them to check the residence. If the service can't reach anyone at the emergency numbers, it will call the police and ask them to investigate.

Many people living alone in our County have already made arrangements of this nature with a friend or relative and that is great. However, if you wish to have this service we have many volunteers who are willing to call you and check to see that you are managing and also have a chat.

Edith McArthur, who resides in Minden, will hopefully, (she's recovering from an accident); be our Fone-a-Friend convenor. Her job will be to match the volunteer with those who wish the service and call once a month to make sure both parties are happy with the arrangement. It is necessary for us to keep statistics on this program because our office is funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services. Home Support is here to help you - we care - just give us a call at 457-2941 and let us know how we can assist you.

Off road vehicles must register

All owners of off-road vehicles had to register their vehicles with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications by June 1, 1984.

Licence plates are available at every motor vehicle licencing office in the province. There is a $25 fee for the one-time plate. A vehicle permit will also be issued and it must be carried by the driver whenever using the vehicle.

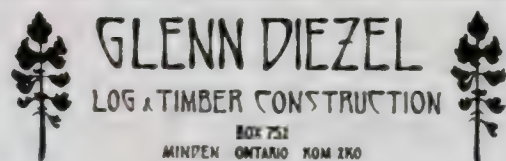

The plate must be mounted on the front of two and three-wheeled off-road vehicles or on the back of four or more wheeled vehicles.

Anyone under 16 years of age cannot register an off-road vehicle.

Owners of newly purchased vehicles must have a dealer's certificate of sale to register their vehicles. Those who have owned them for some time must sign a self-declaration of ownership supplied by MTC when registering.

"Owners had since February 1, 1984 to register their off-road vehicles," said Minister James Snow. "Under this new registration system, it will be possible to identify those drivers and owners who violate the Off-Road Vehicles Act.

"I might add that both drivers and owners are responsible for violations and for any loss or damage to property caused by the vehicle."

Liming program extended

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment is going to bomb another lake this summer as part of its research war against acid rain, Environment Minister Andy Brandt announced recently.

Starting May 23, Environment Ontario scientists will spray Trout Lake, north of Parry Sound, with 150 tonnes of lime.

"The Trout Lake research is significant because it involves the protection of a lake which is still able to support a trout population," said Mr. Brandt. "We may find liming to be effective as a short term measure to protect gene pools of fish from extinction."

Trout Lake is about four times the volume of Bowland Lake which was limed last summer (35 million cubic metres as opposed to 8.3 million c.m. in Bowland Lake), but its waters are in much better condition. It is still able to support a trout population, whereas trout have been absent from Bowland Lake because of acidification for at least 20 years.

The study, which is now in its third year of research, was initiated as part of the Acidic Precipitation in Ontario Study (APIOS). It involves both the Ministry of the Environment and the Ministry of Natural Resources. A private company, Booth Aquatic Research of Toronto, is co-ordinating the study which involves several contractors, as well as government staff in a joint effort.

Water sampling of Trout Lake continued throughout the winter, and during the spring fish fry were exposed to the melt of ice on the lake to determine how the spring shock of acid would affect them.

For the liming, rainbow trout and lake trout will be put into a small bay in Trout Lake so that the adjustment of fish to the chemical change in the water can be monitored.

In this experiment, finely ground limestone (CaCO₃) will be used to promote quick dissolution in the water. Since the limestone has the consistency of talcum powder, it will have to be mixed with water, to form a slurry of about 70% limestone and 30% water. Otherwise too much would be carried away by the wind before it reached the lake.

The limestone will be delivered to Georgian Bay airport in special containers. It will then be blown from these containers into a mixing tank where it will be mixed with water to form a slurry. Then it will be pumped into the hold of the water bomber which is being used to lime the lake.

The Canso can hold 3 - 4 tonnes of slurry at one time. Because of the large volume of slurry, the liming procedure is expected to take about 10 days.

Cottagers and fishermen who use the lake have already been notified by letter, so as to avoid any inconvenience and Ministry staff are following up with personal contact immediately before the start of liming.

Before and after the liming, crews will be on the lake monitoring the dissolution of the limestone. Some samples will be analysed at the lake, and others will be flown out to Ministry of the Environment labs in Rexdale.

After a lake is limed, it is intensively studied for the next few years. Monitoring of pH levels and aquatic life is continuing on Bowland Lake which was limed last summer. A re-characterization study of Trout Lake over the next two years will follow the liming.

Potential spawning areas in Miskokway and Laundrie Lakes will be limed in July to protect fish fry during sensitive stages in the spring.

The Miskokway and Laundrie Lake experiments will provide a contrast to the whole-lake liming experiments on Trout and Bowland Lakes.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Stretching out and soaking up the summer sun has to be one of life's more pleasant activities. Especially in a country with 8 months of winter. Well it seems like 8 months when I woke today to a thermometer chilling at 9 degrees.

There probably is no other animal that takes sun bathing so seriously as to risk skin cancer the way we do. But turtles and butterflies come close. And they have more urgent reasons for doing so. In fact their survival often depends on it.

Turtles, for example, being cold blooded animals, have to get a lot of work done in our short summer. Well, you say, then they shouldn't be lolling about should they. Wrong. In fact, by stretching itself out on a log to catch the maximum sun possible, a turtle can achieve a body temperature 5 degrees warmer than the air around it. And the warmer it gets, the faster its body chemistry works, speeding up digestion, making it a more vigorous hunter when it slips back into the water and, most important, prompting faster egg development within females which gives young turtles an earlier start in a harsh climate.

For butterflies, the benefits of basking are more immediate. They simply can't take off in flight unless their body is 27 degrees or higher. That's even hotter than many summer days, and yet butterflies are a common site this time of year. Again, the secret is that by sitting with its wings spread to catch the greatest sunlight, a butterfly can dramatically raise its internal temperature within a matter of minutes. Because it cools during flight, a butterfly will make frequent stops to sunbathe on cooler days.

Children like the heat of summer too. Only they don't seem to want or need the same amount of "down time" slowly roasting in the sun. So we've invented summer camp. Actually camp is a great opportunity for them to get to know the world of nature and the needs of creatures such as turtles and butterflies. Each year, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists organizes a Young Naturalists Camp for young people aged 10 to 14 years. It offers field trips, birding, geology, nature art, botany, photography and much more in the realm of nature education. This year's camp is from July 2 to 6 near Dorset, Ontario. For further information you can write to: FON, Young Naturalists Camp, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario. M3B 2W8. Telephone: 416-444-8419.

Ontario's Junior Citizen of the Year program takes on a bicentennial flavour this year with the addition of airline tickets and bicentennial books to the list of awards.

Up to 24 of the 1984 nominees will receive an airline ticket good for any Canadian destination, courtesy of the program's patron, CP Air.

The awards program, now in its fourth year, is co-ordinated by the 235 member papers of Ontario Community Newspapers Association (OCNA) and by CP Air. During Ontario's Bicentennial year the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation is supporting the program with the gift of a Bicentennial book to each young person nominated in 1984.

David Wenger of Mount Forest, Chairman of the Junior Citizen Committee, said, "We have developed a fantastic program to honour the good young people of this province and the added support of the Ministry in making this a part of the Bicentennial celebrations indicates 1984 will be a truly memorable year for our Junior Citizens."

He said in the first three years, the program received a total of 428 nominations and "all 428 were certainly deserving candidates for awards." In 1984, organizers hope to bring in a minimum of 250 nominations.

"The added incentive of airline tickets and Bicentennial books should help us meet our goal," he said.

The Junior Citizen program annually honours up to 12 young people chosen for outstanding contributions to their communities, courageous acts of bravery or remarkable fortitude in overcoming physical limitations. "We are not just looking for the 'super-hero' - we want to recognize those ordinary young people who perform noteworthy deeds in their communities simply as an example of good citizenship or leadership," said Mr. Wenger.

The 12 outstanding nominees in 1984 and their families will be guests of Ontario Community Newspapers Association and CP Air at the newspaper group's convention in Toronto next March, when Ontario's Lieutenant Governor the Hon. John B. Aird will make the presentations. The guests of honour will also attend a reception with the Lieutenant Governor in his Queen's Park suite. Each recipient will receive a family portrait with the Lieutenant Governor, a plaque and lapel pin and a CP Air ticket.

An additional 12 nominees will receive an airline ticket and a certificate, to be presented in their community by the publisher or Junior Citizen co-ordinator of the community newspaper responsible for the nomination.

"This award program gives some tangible recognition to the province's 'quiet celebrities' - the young people who exemplify such values as courage, ingenuity, resourcefulness, initiative, leadership, fortitude and selfless performance," said Gordon Clauws of Dresden, President of Ontario Community Newspapers Association.

Individuals or groups, boys and girls between the ages of six and 18 can be nominated by citizens through their community newspaper or nominations can be submitted directly to Ontario Community Newspapers Association at Box 451, Oakville, L6J 5A8, telephone 1-800-268-5054.

Nomination forms are available at all member newspapers, including The Times, local schools and the Ontario Community Newspapers Association office.

A final deadline for 1984 nominations will be established this fall. Meanwhile, organizers urged citizens to get their nominations in right away. The spring deadline is June 20.

What Electricity Has To Offer

Most people know that electrically heating your home costs less than heating it with oil. But, do you know that in many communities it costs about the same as heating with natural gas. Yet, electricity has a lot more to offer.

Electric heating is very versatile and offers a wide range of clean and comfortable systems. Most systems can be used alone to heat your home totally with electricity - or - if your oil furnace is in good condition but you want to reduce fuel bills, a dual energy system (adding some electric heat to work with your oil furnace) is an economical way to heat your home.

Each electric system has its own special advantage, for example, electric hydronic boilers (hot water heating systems) are very compact and space saving; heat pumps provide air conditioning as well as heating for year round comfort; forced air furnaces and plenum heaters use existing ductwork; baseboards and other unitary systems offer the comfort and energy savings of individual room temperature control (why heat rooms you don't use!).

Electric heating is efficient, economical, safe and clean - and - many systems don't require upgrading your existing electrical service.

For all the details on efficient, economical, safe and clean electricity visit the Ontario Hydro booth at the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton's 1984 Home and Vacation show.

On Monday, June 4, members of Minden W.I. boarded the District chartered bus and headed south on their annual spring bus trip. They visited Hamilton Botanical Gardens and the Erland Lee homestead, also managing an "all too short" visit to the Agricultural Museum in Milton. Some of the ladies who enjoyed their day out were, Mary Cox, Rheta Brown, Maude Coulter, Annie Kernohan and Jeanne Sears.

We would remind you that Minden United Church are holding their annual congregational picnic on Sunday, June 10 at 12:30 p.m. at Twelve Mile Lake church grounds. This is always a most enjoyable event and all members are welcome.

Happy to hear Angus Cameron of Norland is home again after an eye implant for cataracts at Soldiers Memorial Hospital in Orillia.

Monday night results from Club 35 weekly euchre party were: most lone hands - Greta Alsop; high man - George Alsop; high lady - Fern Donnelly; Door prize - Minnie Dawson. Other winners - Emmerson Gallagher, Eleanor Ferris and Jack Weekes.

Best wishers for a speedy recovery go to Rev. Westhaver, Edith Welch and Chris Precoor and all those who are in hospital at present. We trust you will all be home safe and well very soon.

There will be a Bag Sale at St. Paul's Thrift Shop this Friday, June 8. The shop will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. and will continue to remain open these hours for the rest of the summer each Friday.

Different, fun, relaxing and a good night out were some of the opinions heard at Rotary Bingo last week and Helen Lee could add profitable too! She won over $175! Mrs. McKelvey pocketed $100 and there were several $25 winners in the Nevada game. The regular season starts June 12 and will be held every Tuesday evening all summer. Early bird games start at 7:45 p.m. Go for a good night and help Rotary serve the community at the same time.

Sincere congratulations to county clerk Wynn Lahay and Reg Newbery who were married May 26 in St. Thomas' Anglican Church, Bracebridge, where Wynn's mother was able to attend the ceremony. The happy couple will reside in Minden and we heard that their honey moon was spent checking out siding, making a safari to darkest Blairhampton and visiting the Lutterworth dump! We hope you will both be very, very happy!

Nice to see Phil and Jane Graham home again after a long visit to Scotland, England and Wales. During their holiday, they attended the reunion of 426 Squadron, RCAF which was held in York and Linton-on-Ouse. Phil reports they had a marvellous time and he was greatly taken by the neatness and cleanliness of the various British villages they visited.

The afternoon card party at the Library/Cultural Centre on Thursday was quite successful. Those playing euchre had Wintario tickets going to Betty Harper for high, Flo Dollo for lone hands. Bridge winner was Brook Earle. These games go on every Thursday afternoon at 1:30 and the funds raised go to Minden Museum fund.

The Library Committee will meet at the Library, Monday, June 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Heartiest congratulations to Rick Vaughan of HHSS music department on demonstrating his and his pupils' skills at their annual May concert last Thursday night. What an experience! The grade nine band, the stage band and the concert band performed for an enthusiastic concert and the performance was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The various solos by band members were excellent and it was most gratifying to see the younger members coming along so well. Some Grade 13's who are moving on this year showed their gratitude to and affection for Mr. Vaughan in a presentation via trombone virtuoso Mike Amyotte. We agree with their feelings, he does do a fine job at our High School. Keep up the good work folks!

The annual meeting of Archie Stouffer Home and School Association will be held at the school library on Tuesday, June 12 at 8 p.m. During the meeting the election of officers will be held and a report of school bus safety policy proposals will be heard. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is welcome to attend this meeting.

Enjoy an evening of fun and frolic at the annual beef barbecue and dance sponsored by Minden Agricultural Society starting at 6 o'clock Saturday, June 8. The dance starts at 9 p.m., but don't miss the great food!

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Well readers, by the time this letter reaches you, we will be in the month of June, a lovely time of year. I have to say the black flies are real bad. They get into your eyes and ears. We would like to say a big thank you to Percy and Carrie Drysdale, which is only right. They come over to conduct the games for us every Saturday night.

We see Bill Johnston, taking his mother out in her wheel chair to see the birds and flowers and to get some fresh air.

Ada Shorter was out, we don't know the score. We expect there were quite a number more.

Interesting service in the chapel Sunday night. Some residents sick, not too many about. After the Thompson's took their part, Rev. Burgess spoke on Jesus, said, "He that comes to me, I will in no wise cast out".

We were sorry to learn of Rev. Westhaver, of Minden United Church. The sympathy from all here go out to him and Mrs. Westhaver. We hope it won't be too long when you will be restored to health and strength, and be back with us again.

This Monday was Della

Curry's birthday. She was 84. We hope many more will be coming her way. We have Edith Welch back to Minden Hospital, nearer to Hyland Crest. When you get over this we hope everything will be alright. We miss you in the daytime, and pray for you at night.

Monday morning, a game we played was won by Ada Shorter. So we thought it alright that we should report her.

Rev. John James of Haliburton United Church, delivered an interesting message this Tuesday. The resurrection of Jesus Christ, how he was crucified with much suffering and strength and how he was resurrected back to everlasting life.

Tuesday night Gordon Houghton from near Carnarvon, Mervin Rivers from Haliburton, Murry and Shirley Davis from the shore of Horseshoe Lake, came to entertain us. They sure got what it takes. They sang and played music that was really fine. We'll be glad to have you come back any time.

Instead of fun and fitness Wednesday morning, we had a two hour movie, "The Man From Snowy Mountain". The actors moved with much speed, they were interesting indeed.

In hospital we have Chris Precoor. What the trouble is we are not sure. As we write this letter, Jessie Walter says, "A special treatment arise, or something better."

The ladies of the Minden Horticultural Society served a tea party this Thursday. With all kinds of goodies and a party for those who had birthdays in May. With a delicious birthday cake too, we would like to say a big thank you.

The bingo callers Thursday night were Sid Stamp and Elsie Sedore, some players were lucky and piled up a real big score. Teddy Carr won 5 bingos, Della Curry won 6. I didn't hear of anyone winning more. Our entertainers came again, this lovely warm day. Grace to lead the singing, Norma the music to play. Grace always sings a couple of numbers and has humorous poems too. For this we would like to say a big thank you.

A customer in a barber shop asked the barber: "Why do you have magazines on the table here, with stories of horrible murders, mysteries, and ghosts?" The barber declared with smile, "Well, it makes the customer's hair stand on end, and then it's easier to cut."

IN MEMORIAM

VOICEY: Joseph H - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away June 10, 1982.

Though your smile is gone forever
And your hand we cannot touch
Still we have so many memories
Of you dad who we loved so much.
Your memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part
God has you in his keeping
We have you in our hearts.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Family.

VOICEY: In loving memory of my dear husband, Joe, who passed away June 10, 1982.

Two years have gone by
Since I had to part with you my darling
Whom I loved with all my heart
I miss you so, I always will
You left a place no one can fill
So many times I have needed you
So many times I have cried,
If love could have saved you
You would still be here.
Life, though different, must go on.
So dear one, our family and friends
Take care of me well.
The memories of our life together
And your picture I treasure well
And pray that I may keep them bright
Till we meet again.

Lovingly remembered and missed by wife Alice.
